PRINCES WHO MAKE

TRADITION

What is fame? Elusive enough, say old-fashioned men of letters who dreamed of immortality.

But little follows carry on, Prince Johann II, ruler of Liechtenstein, has just left a vast estate, but he is still a crowned head. Johann was called by the courts of Czechoslovakia, his estate in that country was valued at 200 acres and his 40,000 were estate in that country.

Younger state than his own, his princely.

Great powers make history, but little ones make tradition. Monarchs have played to the hilt in the name of the people, but little ones make history, but little ones make tradition. Monarchs have played to the hilt in the name of the people, but little ones make history, but little ones make tradition.

Johann must find other means of financing his princely principality, but that most of the Czechoslovakian estate has been confiscated. But a prince that kept a state alive while all around it had nations died and new ones were born, can probably overcome this difficulty.

The Prince of Monaco sold his with luxury money. Pavlovich Johann, if present, can project his romantic little country into moving pictures.

Kill Dangerous Flies Quicker!

Clean smelling Fly Vapor, from the handy Fly Vapor, kills flies quicker! It contains more insect-killing ingredients, though harmless to humans and stains to fabrics. That's why more people use Flygon. Money back guarantee. Write for your money in the form of a coupon.

MEMBERS FORMER SCARLET AND GOLD CLUB SHOWER

Miss May Ulrich, a July bride, was the guest of honor on Thursday evening of last week at a party given by the members of the former Scarlet and Gold Club, at the home of Miss D. Genge.

The first part of the evening was spent in playing old time games which caused much merriment, and at which prizes were won by Miss Hengen, Miss Hicks, Miss Bremer and Miss Ulrich. The games were a daisy luncheon was served. Paper hats and neckties were first presented to the guests, which added greatly to the merriment of the event. The table was covered with a large artificial tulip made of yellow crepe paper, and which was also designed to represent a "Grish Boy".

The tulip was surrounded with pink and white primroses and columbines and red and yellow candles. Above this a large white bell was suspended from which white streamers were draped and each held in place by a daisy place card.

The guest of honor was requested to make the first toast, from the "Tulip Grish Boy" which it was previously announced to be the only one, and was the recipient of a half a dozen water goblets in violet etched design. While she was making the draw, the guests all joined in a chorus of one of the snappy club songs entitled, "Smile and Keep-a-Smiling." Miss Ulrich in a few well chosen words expressed her thanks to all of those present for the gift.

A very pleasant hour was then spent in fortune telling and word games, and the singing of "For She's a daisy Good Fellow" brought to a close a most enjoyable evening.

BRIDAL SHOWER FOR MISS KATHLEEN HARR

A pretty bridal shower was given on Friday evening by Miss Margaret Bell and Miss Mary Young at the home of the former to Miss Kathleen Harr, a July bride-elect. The home was beautifully decorated with flowers for the occasion. About 20 guests assembled to witness the event. The first part of the evening was spent in playing card games, and Miss Loretta Bell and Miss Florence McKean were the featured prize winners.

A delicious luncheon was served by the hostesses, a feature of which was a beautifully decorated table which centered the luncheon table and of which the guest of honor cut the first piece.

The climax of the evening's entertainment was the appearance of the little Marion Holmest with a carriage loaded to overflowing with a large assortment of lovely presents. Miss Harr returned thanks to her guests, and the evening was closed in which they had expressed their feelings towards her at this auspicious period of her life. The evening was spent in games and dancing.

The question of an agreement with the Calgary Power Company to supply the town of Macleod with power and light was under discussion and the first stage of a by-law was put through, recommending this matter to the Utilities Commission and the harnessing of the Town for their opinion and decision.

It was decided to transfer lot 17, North 22nd Street West to W. T. Fleming, on which he has moved a house, taxes to commence from July 1st. The house and lot 11, South of 22nd Street West was sold to F. Hall for $100.00.

GARDENING HINTS

Beans

It is a simple matter to procure a bean-growing supply. Beans are practically right through the Summer. This is a particularly delicious vegetable, especially when taken right out of the garden at the door, and the use can be made of them in a variety of ways. Beans are one of the most economical of crops. Beans prefer warm weather, an open soil and plenty of sunshine and moisture. The first crop will be well under way now and probably a second planting started or ready to start. With several varieties maturing at various intervals at one's disposal, and two distinct types—the dwarf and the climbing—the choice is a wide range. This vegetable comes in two colors, green and the yellow, the last named being known as the Wax Type, and while some people prefer one to the other, both are recommended. It is not advisable to plant beans in hills, except where the ground is low and inclined to be damp. Plant about an inch deep and thin to five or six inches apart. A row of twenty five to fifty feet coming on every two weeks will keep the average family well supplied. One can continue planting up to about the middle of July. The climbing sorts go up after the weather turns thoroughly warm and they should be trained up on stakes. These require about eighteen inches each way while the dwarf sorts are grown in rows from about fifteen inches apart to twenty four inches or three feet where heavy cultivation is used. The latter should be thinned in the row to about five inches apart. Beans should not be picked when the plants are damp as this is apt to spread a disease which causes black rot on the pods.

Street Plants

As sweet peas make most of their growth in the cool weather, and it is essential that they make plenty of growth if they are to bloom freely, push them along now. If grown in a trench, as they should be, gradually draw in the soil around them so that they will develop a deep root system. Such a system will bring them through a siege of hot weather. Cultivate freely and fertilize well. Just before the buds begin to swell, a little nitrate of soda sprinkled about the rows and well watered in will add strength to the flowers and insure a longer blooming season.

Pruning Shrubs

Early flowering varieties of shrubs should be pruned after flowering is over by cutting out the old branches which hold the withered blooms, according to Professor A. H. Tomlinson of the Ontario Agricultural College. This is especially necessary in the case of those plants over three years of age in order that there is room left for new growth and vigorous flowering. With late flowering sorts, such as the hydrangeas, the pruning is done in the Spring of the year. Evergreen shrubs should be pruned now and this is also a good time to plant evergreens.

Keep Flowers Picked

In order to have the flower garden looking its best at all times and also to secure the maximum amount of bloom, all dying flowers must be kept removed. With most sorts, the flower the stem is removed, the more of it there will be. With plants are allowed to stand developing seed pods, all the energy goes into this part of the business and there are no more flowers. With those which produce clumps of small flowers, such as petunias, phlox, bellas and even some of the larger types can be sheared off. If one has the time, it is also a good plan to nip off many of the buds and a portion of the side shoots. This will result in much larger flowers as the energy which would have gone into the unwanted side shoots and buds will be turned into these buds left.

Keep Things Growing

If the vegetable garden suffers a check in growth roots will be very disappointing as the crops being introduced will be inclined to be tough or stringy. Where it is possible to water, it is quite a simple matter to keep growing things regardless of the weather, but even the irrigation system can be used with a hose and with a quickly available fertilizer such as nitrate of soda. Sprinkle the latter about the rows, using about an ounce to every six feet of row and work in well with a rake or a hoe. The garden must be kept cultivated, particularly during dry weather as the conserve moisture by preventing evaporation of the water stored in the soil and thus keep the plants growing. A well-cultivated garden will keep on growing almost regardless of the weather.

Obsolescence has come to be regarded in industry as one of the chief enemies of profits. Companies are now on record wherein iron castings on the verge of bankruptcy.

CHOP MANAGEMENT FOR WEED CONTROL

A thorough summerfall will usually be the most effective method of keeping the most persistent growing perennial weeds under control. When it is necessary to resort to the summerfall as a weed control measure, it is advisable to adopt some systematic rotation of crops with regular seeding down to grass and legumes at short intervals.

Many farmers feel that they can afford to free their land of weeds by any method which will not give a crop of some kind. While the eradication of perennial weeds such as quack grass, quack grass, etc., necessitates the use of the fallow, such treatment does not free the land from many annual weeds such as wild oats, mustard, or stink weed, hence it is necessary from an economic standpoint to adopt farming methods that control rather than eradicate such weeds.

Land that is heavily plowed with perennial weeds will produce an excellent crop of winter wheat or rye. But if these crops act as smother crops for all types of weeds if they get a good start in the fall and do not winter kill.

Barley and oat green feed if handled properly will effectively complete against most of our annual weeds and many perennials. Land to be used for these crops should be partially fallowed before seeding. It is usually wise to discontinue the week or so before ploughing and then permit the formation of weeds which matured with the preceding crop and fell on the ground. A succession of crops and treatments tends to reduce the weed seed content of the soil.

Seeding down to grass and legumes and cutting the hay crop early will prevent most of the weeds from ripening, thus decreasing the number of seeds which will be in the subsoil from year to year. Alfalfa and sweet clover are the best crops to use for this purpose.

Low stock and particularly sheep are valuable aids in weed control. Live stock are most essential in profitable agriculture on a weedy farm as many of the crops which control weeds are not cash crops and can be marketed to best advantage by the live stock trade. In addition to this, many perennial weeds with a creeping root system such as quack grass can be much more easily eradicated if the land is seeded down and left in pasture for a few years until it becomes so bound.

THE FARM EQUIPMENT MAN

Vol. 1, No. 13 Macleod Thursday, July 4, 1929

Watch for the "News" each week. Suggestions and news items invited. Claude Tweed, Editor.

KEEPS 'EM SWEET

A mighty good way to keep your milk cans from acquiring a moldy odor even though the lid may be on an tight is to put some crumpled newspapers in them. The newspapers take up the moisture and absorb all odor.

The sections always enter in the garden at the McCormick-Deering Mower. That means the grass is cut off—not pulled out by the roots. Lighter draft and better work.

Artistic was Bobby McKivvers. His wind-shield was covered with stickers.

His view was so bad.

A smash-up he had.

How are you fixed for grinding your mower knives? Watch after you a simple McCormick-Deering Knife Grinder which factors into the mower wheel or bench and grinds the knives rapidly and uniformly. The grinding stone is shaped to grind two surfaces at once. Ask us to show you one of these grinders.

The new, heat-treated, crimped-center disks used on all our McCormick-Deering Tractor Disk Harrows are from 50 to 100 per cent stronger than ordinary disks.

Bob Jackson knows that increased yields come with thorough and frequent cultivation of summer-fallow. He bought a McCormick-Deering Wide Type Disk Harrow from us that will enable him to do the job frequently, quickly and at minimum cost.

Kills any a Scotchman's scythe without incident.

A POULTRY HINT

If your chickens have worms and 2 pounds of tobacco dust to every 100 pounds of mash and feed the mixture for about 4 weeks. Then give the chickens a little dose of salt at the rate of about 1/2 pound to 100 pounds of mash. Then start the cycle over again. In this way you can rid your chickens of worms in excellent shape.

"The fingers on the revolving wheels are just like human fingers. These are the words of one of our good customers who is using a McCormick-Deering Rotary Hoe to break the crust, kill the tiny weeds, and improve the condition of his crop."

A laundry is a place where your clothes are mangled.

Start early with a McCormick-Deering Rotary Hoe and keep it up. You will never have any weeds in your field to cultivate. It is the greatest tool for herbs, potatoes, corn, and other row crops ever invented. It is our aim to keep our local service worthy of the McCormick-Deering line which we represent. Courtesy and attention to detail shall be our watchword.

Strawberries

The strawberry season will likely end within a week, except for the odd ones. The quality of the berries is already slightly on the decline. Don't delay in securing your preserving berries.

Gooseberries

If you intend preserving any gooseberries we suggest that you place your order at once. They will finish before the strawberries, and the demand for them usually comes after they are gone. It has been this way in past years.

Raspberries

Good raspberries are on the market now but the quality is poor after the long trip, and the price is high. Next week Creston and Harrow Raspberries will be available at reasonable prices. Wait for them.

Simple—Safe—and Dependable

THE Ford car fuel system is simple because it is direct. Gravity flow does away with forced feed. A short feed line with a minimum of elbows and connections is easy to service and eliminates approximately 100 parts required by the vacuum tank or fuel pump system.

The nine gallon tank is so placed that it is well protected from front or rear end collision. Any overflow runs off on the ground with no serious results, since the only point of possible spark contact is the rear end of the exhaust. Three screens instead of one, as in most fuel systems, prevent foreign matter reaching the tank. A solid steel dash separates the Ford gas tank from the engine.

The gas gauge on the dash of the Ford car is controlled by a simple float as shown in diagram, being more direct, simple and accurate than any other type. Another point of driving convenience made possible by the gravity flow system is the ease with which the tank may be filled, while the driver supervises the operation without moving from behind the wheel.
